

Are You Weary, Are You Burdened

"Come to me, all you who are weary and are carrying heavy burdens, and I will give you rest." -Matthew 11:28

1. Are you wea - ry, are you bur - dened, are you now op - pressed?
2. Is there hope when vio' - lence looms and ter - ror grips us tight?
3. When we come with hea - vy spi - rits, where can we find peace?

5

Come, the Voice of Love in - vites us to find rest.
Yes, our prayers u - nite us, shin - ing in the night.
In the arms of Love, anx - i - e - ty will cease.

9

Are you lone - ly, are you griev - ing, feel - ing pain, dis - tress?
Is there rest for wea - ry si - blings, those who live in fear?
Can we thrive des - pite the po - ver - ty that holds us down?

13

In our sis - ter - hood of faith, you will be blessed.
Yes, for Christ's yoke, it is ea - sy, light to bear.
In God's king - dom, we are ho - nored, we are known.

17 Refrain

Pra - ying, ho - ping, sing - ing, lo - ving, will we find our rest?

21

Faith - ful peo - ple rise to - ge - ther, ans - wer "Yes!"

Are you weary, are you burdened, are you now oppressed?
 Come, the Voice of Love invites us to find rest.
 Are you lonely, are you grieving, feeling pain, distress?
 In our sisterhood of faith, you will be blessed.

Refrain

*Praying, hoping, singing, loving, will we find our rest?
 Faithful people rise together, answer "Yes!"*

Is there hope when vio'lence looms and terror grips us tight?
 Yes, our prayers unite us, shining in the night.
 Is there rest for weary siblings, those who live in fear?
 Yes, for Christ's yoke, it is easy, light to bear.

When we come with heavy spirits, where can we find peace?
 In the arms of Love, anxiety will cease.
 Can we thrive despite the poverty that holds us down?
 In God's kingdom, we are honored, we are known.
